To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure that we recommend MAG Development, Matt Wolfe, Jeff Grohs and Adam Charney. MAG Development have been instrumental in the completion of our gym facility.

MAG Development helped SWEAT complete the gym in 21 days once our original contractor was removed from the site. MAG Development stepped in and worked through all of the issues with the original contractors work effort. MAG Development took the attitude of needing to get the facility open as quickly as possible and had a hands-on approach to completing the effort.

The MAG Development team has always displayed a high degree of integrity, responsibility, and ambition. MAG Development is definitely a leader in the general contracting field and all members of the MAG Development staff also were very competent and lead the work effort.

MAG Development has been consistent throughout the completion of the project and helped make SWEAT successful in opening on February 4th, 2008. Without the work of MAG Development and their sub contractors, SWEAT would not have successfully completed this facility and would have been further behind due to our original contractors.

MAG Development would be an asset to any organization, and we are happy to give them our wholehearted endorsement.

Sincerely,

Josh and Laura Rogers
